ASKS SUDETENS RESUME TALKS IN MINORITY CRISIS

Instructions From Hitler In Expressing Peace Desire

ORDERS FOLLOWERS TO REMAIN CALM

German Efforts To Get British To Act On Problem Quickly

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER

NURNBERG, Germany, Sept. 8—(AP)—Adolf Hitler, who yesterday ordered Sudeten Germans to discontinue their negotiations for selfrule with the Czechoslovak government, today instructed the minority leaders to resume the talks.

The reason for this change, it was said, was the desire of the chancellor and self-styled protector of Sudeten Germans to convince the world he was leaving nothing undone to find a peaceful solution to the Czech-German crisis.

Informed quarters said "with this additional evidence of a conciliatory spirit to the Sudeten Germans' credit," Hitler could "all the more press upon the British to demand maximum concessions from the Czechoslovak administration."

German efforts will now be concentrated upon getting the British to act quickly and decisively, these sources added.

Konrad Henlein, Sudeten German leader, returned to Nurnberg this morning after a hurried overnight journey to Czechoslovakia, which he took at Hitler's behest.

Calls For Calmness

An informed source said the Sudeten fuehrer ordered his followers to remain calm and refrain from intensifying the conflict while his negotiations with Hitler, and Hitler's with Britain, are in progress.

Henlein hastened home after receiving reports that the "horsewhipping" of a Sudeten deputy by a Czech policeman in a border town had caused a rupture of the Sudeten-Prague government negotiations.

Henlein told his followers to reopen those negotiations, informed persons said.

Germany's patience with both the British and the Czechoslovaks in negotiations for German minority rights in Czechoslovakia is near its end, a general well aware of events said.

"We never will make war on the Czechs," the general told this writer at the Nazi party convention here, "but if the lives of our German brethren are not safe the day may come when we shall consider that they (the Czechs) started a war with us.

"In such case, of course, we shall remember that attack is the best method of defense."

A Czech mounted policeman yesterday rode into a noisy crowd in Maehrisch-Ostrau, near the German and Polish borders with Czechoslovakia, and, Germans said, struck with his riding crop the shoulders of a Sudeten German legislator.

Charges "Dilly-Dallying"

In speaking of the Maehrisch-Ostrau disturbance, the general asked "how much longer is this to go on?" He continued, as one closely in the know of things, with a criticism of British diplomacy thus far.

"After Viscount Runciman (Britain's mediator in Prague) had 14 days to orient himself, he should have had come forward clearly and explicitly and said: 'Are you willing to grant the Sudetens their just demand for autonomy or not? If yes, then give effect to your promises at once. If not, we wash our hands of the situation.'

"Instead, Runciman keeps dilly-dallying. The cabinet in London also cannot make up its mind.

"We had hoped at least that Sir Neville Henderson (the British ambassador) would return from London with something concrete and tangible.

"And what did he bring? Nothing but words." (Sir Neville, British said, in effect told the German foreign minister, Joachim von Ribbentrop, that Britain might be forced to fight if Germany acted with force to aid the Sudetens against Czechoslovakia).

What the Sudetens want, said the spokesman, "is one complete section of Czechoslovakia in which they are the masters where they can profess and Nazi weltanschuung (Nazi ideology) and where Germans will be governed by Germans."

The Czech government's scheme for dividing the republic into cantons "so small that Germans will be spread over all three of them," he continued "again begs the whole question."

U. S. TO BORROW OVER A BILLION IN BIG PROGRAM

Treasury Offers Huge Amount of Bonds and Notes For Sale

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Morgentha.. offered $1,133,460,900 worth of bonds and notes for sale to investors Wednesday. This was the first major step to finance the huge spending program voted by the last congress.

The offer included $700,000,000 of "new money" to finance part of the estimated $4,000,000,000 deficit to be incurred this fiscal year because of enlarged relief, public works and national defense spending.

An additional $433,460,900 worth of securities will be sold to refinance an equal sum of treasury notes maturing December 15.

The financing will send the federal debt to a record of about $38,300,000,000 on September 15, the issue date for the new securities. Although the debt is headed for another peak of more than $40,000,000,000 in the next year, next week it already will be $22,000,000,000 larger than the post-war low of December 31, 1930, and $12,000,000,000 more than the war-time peak set August 31, 1919.

Morgenthau specifically denied the size of the borrowing operation was influenced by the possibility of a European war which might upset money markets. However, observers noted the borrowing, plus September 15 quarterly income tax collections, would increase the treasury's cash working balance to about $2,500,000,000. This is five times as big as customary in normal times, and big enough to last the treasury many months if an emergency made further borrowing difficult or unusually expensive in the next few months.

Secretary Morgenthau said at today's press conference that the new securities offering had been "well received" in financial circles.

CAPT. FRAKES IN PLANE ACCIDENT

Capt. F. F. Frakes, whose deliberate airplane crash through the roof of a house from a height of 2,000 feet was to have been the headliner at Wednesday afternoon's program at the DuQuoin State Fair at DuQuoin, Ill., was prevented from doing his stunt by accident.

Shortly after he ascended in his plane from a landing field west of DuQuoin, the machine crashed into a tree and was too badly damaged to permit Captain Frakes to go on with his stunt. Frakes was slightly injured, but motored several miles to the fair grounds to tell a crowd of nearly 10,000 that he would appear Saturday afternoon.

Captain Frakes' stunt was one of the features of the recent Missouri State Fair here.

FRENCH ARMIES OF LAND AND AIR WATCH TROOPS

Planes Roar Over Maginot Line Observing German Moves

PRAYERS FOR PEACE BY DEVOUT WOMEN

At Some Points Soldiers of Two Countries Near Enough To Talk

SAREGUEMINES, On The French-German Frontier, Sept. 8—(AP)—France's air and land armies in the Maginot zone watched movements of German troops across the frontier today and awaited developments in Czechoslovakia.

Citizens of Metz awoke today to see a large army observation balloon floating from a cable high above the city. Two observers in the basket scanned the northern horizon with field glasses and kept in constant touch by telephone with a ground crew.

French observation and pursuit planes roared over valleys of the Maginot line of fortifications long before the morning fog had lifted.

During the night troops in the fortresses were strengthened by thousands of trained reserves. Constant watch was kept in the garrisons and at entrances to the underground fortifications.

By the time the night watch was relieved the drone of airplanes overhead told the land force that the air army also had taken their posts.

Flock to Churches To Pray

Little parish churches of the frontier zone were lighted this morning by hundreds of candles placed before the altars by devout Lorraine women.

Throughout Alsace and Lorraine—areas that felt the full brunt of the world war—for the last few days thousands of women of the frontier zone have flocked into Metz and Strasbourg cathedrals and hundreds of parish churches. They said many a prayer for peace and burned many a candle.

The cream of the French continental forces and reserve reinforcements, an estimated 350,000 men in all, waited ready for orders in the Maginot zone.

The Rhine river, rising slightly during the night, lapped at bases of the new Siegfried line of forts spreading along the German side of the stream from Lauterbourg to the Swiss border.

Close Enough To Chat

At many points along the Rhine and along the winding northern frontier through the Saar valley, small units of French and German troops were close enough to talk.

There were few exchanges of conversation, however, because the French soldiers assigned to posts on the actual frontier are almost all from central France and speak no German.

Even the frontier area outside the regular Maginot line contains many signs of French thoroughness in protecting the region.

Almost all farms in the northeastern area are fenced off with strong barbed wire looped through heavy iron posts instead of the usual wooden posts seen elsewhere in France.

That equipment came from the army supply corps and has turned every farmhouse into a potential stronghold surrounded by barbed wire barriers for defense, if need be.

French military quarters reported a German army corps of 25,000 had moved into fortifications near Lauterbourg.

Frontier guards, on both sides, declared: "Whatever happens, we are ready."

The Rhine forms the boundary opposite Lauterbourg. On the German side of the river several hundred Nazi labor corps members were rushing to completion a large unit of the Siegfried line.

Frenchmen watching the work from their side shouted across the stream: "If you think that's a fort, you ought to see the Maginot!"

TELLS KIWANIANS OF HEALTH CLINIC

R. P. Kroggel director of speech education of the State Department of Health, Jefferson City, was the speaker at today's meeting of Sedalia Kiwanis club in Bothwell hotel. He told of the purpose of the department and of the clinic that will be held in Sedalia next week for examination of school children who have speech impediment. The clinic is being held with approval of the school board and the city and county school superintendents.

In telling of the speech education work program, Mr. Kroggel stated that in 34 Missouri school centers examination revealed that 8½ per cent of school children had speech impediment, representing a total of 3,000.

B. D. Morriss, new vocal instructor in Smith-Cotton High school, a new member of the club, sang a solo at the beginning of the meeting after introduction by Song Leader J. T. Alexander who then presented I. H. Reed with the attendance prize.

George Dugan presided as program chairman. Paul Jordan, of Birmingham, Ala., was a guest of Reinhold Fisher. Joe Rosenthal presented the club with a box of cigars in celebration of the advent of a new daughter.

SOCIAL SECURITY BOARD STUDIES CHANGES IN ACT

Would Broaden and Increase Scope of Benefits Provided

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—(AP)—The Social Security Board disclosed today it is preparing for congress a detailed report on the feasibility of dozens of proposed changes in the security act.

President Roosevelt asked last April for a study of methods of liberalizing and extending of the old-age benefit system.

The Social Security Advisory Council subsequently asked the board to investigate the possibility of extending the old-age insurance benefits to about 16,000,000 domestic servants, farm hands and self-employed persons now excluded from the act.

The studies will touch on these additional proposals, a spokesman for the board said:

1. Starting payment of old-age benefits before Janhary 1, 1942, the date now fixed by law.

2. Payment of larger benefits than now provided for persons retiring during the earlier years of the program.

3. Distribution of benefits to aged wives and widows and young children of insured persons who die before reaching retirement age.

4. A change in the present method of investing the accumulating security taxes in a reserve fund before old-age annuities begin.

5. Downward revision of the individual and employer tax rates until the program reaches the peak of its operation in four or five years.

The advisory council, selected at the request of the senate finance committee, consists of five representatives of labor, six from employers and 11 from the public generally.

OPINION THAT A POSTMISTRESS IN LAW VIOLATION

Report On Political Activities of Mrs. Toulson Be Made

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—(AP)—The senate campaign expenditures committee expressed the opinion today in a formal statement that Mrs. Maude Toulson, postmistress of Salisbury, Md., had violated federal law by assisting Representative Lewis (D-Md) in his campaign for the Democratic senatorial nomination.

The committee said it would turn its findings over to the justice department to the postmaster general.

In his complaint against the Salisbury postmistress, Tydings told the committee:

"It is notorious in many places on the eastern shore that the postmasters have been told by the postmistress of Salisbury, and by others, to get out and work for Lewis."

The senator added it was "notorious" that the postmistress of Salisbury had accompanied Lewis on campaign trips.

"The committee is of the opinion," its statement said, "in view of the report it has received from its investigators that these allegations in the main are substantiated. * * *

Charge Not Sustained

The committee's statement said reports of its investigators "no not sustain the charge that the C. I. O. is financing the campaign of Representative Lewis."

Lewis, who is President Roosevelt's choice in the Maryland primary against Senator Tydings, asked the committee to investigate newspaper advertising which indicated the C. I. O. had helped finance his campaign. Lewis charged the advertising was paid by Tydings' supporters.

The committee investigation of the activities of Mrs. Toulson was undertaken at the request of Tydings.

The committee announced that it had instructed its investigators to look into other charges of both Lewis and Tydings.

Tydings told the committee recently that the Maryland collector of internal revenue had attempted to coerce federal workers in favor of Lewis. Lewis submitted to the committee an affidavit by a WPA worker who said he was discharged because he would not agree to support Tydings.

Chairman Sheppard (D-Tex) said the committee would meet Sunday, if necessary, to complete its Maryland investigation, before the primary election Monday.

No Comment To Make

SALISBURY, Md., Sept. 8.—Mrs. Maude Toulson, postmistress here, said today "I have no comment at all" on the senate campaign expenditures committee opinion she had violated federal law by assisting Rep. Lewis (D-Md) in his campaign for the Democratic senatorial nomination.

ANNOUNCE SUBSIDY ON FLOUR EXPORTS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—(AP)—The agriculture department, starting Wednesday its subsidy program for flour sold in export, announced a 30-cent-a-barrel payment.

The 30-cent figure will prevail until 1 p. m. central standard time, tomorrow. New rates will be announced for each day the subsidy payment is effective and until 5,000,000 barrels have been sold in foreign markets, officials said. Rates announced on Fridays, however, will prevail the following Saturday.

SUMMONS FOR BRITISH CABINET IN GRAVE CRISIS

Consider The Deepening Anxieties of European Situation

DEMAND FROM BRITISH LABOR

War or Peace For The Czechs Soon To Be Determined

By The Associated Press.

LONDON, Sept. 8.—The British cabinet was summoned today to meet next Monday, a few hours before Reichsfuehrer Hitler is expected to make at Nurnberg, Germany, a speech which may tell Europe whether there will be war or peace over Czechoslovakia.

The German chancellor's speech (about 1 p. m. EST) is scheduled as the climax of the tenth annual Nazi party congress, now in progress. European statesmen have expressed belief that by then he will have made up his mind how far he will go as "protector" of the Sudeten German minority of Czechoslovakia.

Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain issued the call for the cabinet meeting after a series of conferences with key ministers on the suspension of negotiations between the Prague government and the Sudeten Germans.

Informed quarters believed that Monday's session was called to reach a decision on what Britain should do if the Furhrer hearlded aggressive German action.

Demand By Labor

Earlier today was served on the government a formal demand that parliament be summoned as soon as possible to consider the deepening anxieties of the European situation.

Clement R. Attlee, leader of the labor opposition in the house of commons, presented this demand to Prime Minister Chamberlain as Chamberlain and other members of the "inner cabinet" gathered in London to study the Central European snarl.

Attlee acted in pursuance of a resolution adopted at Blackpool last night by a joint meeting of the national executive of the labor party, the executive of the parliamentary labor board and the general council of the trades union congress—the high command of labor.

Parliament recessed July 29 for three months.

Mutual defense arrangements between Britain and Ireland in the light of the European tension were believed to have been discussed at a breakfast meeting between Sir Thomas Inskip, minister for the coordination of British defenses, and Eamon De Valera, premier of Ireland.

Delays Departure

An announcement at the same time said that Viscount Halifax, foreign secretary, "reluctantly" had postponed his departure for a League of Nations meeting at Geneva in order to keep in close touch with the situation.

The meeting between Sir Thomas and De Valera was particularly timely because Britain, under her treaty with the new Irish state, is transferring Irish coast defenses at Berehaven, Cobi and Lough Swilly to the De Valera government.

Bublin, which gave Britain assurances last summer that it never would permit another power to use Irish territory as a base from which to attack the United Kingdom, also in taking vigorous steps to expand its military forces and naval defenses.

Harassed by a critical breakdown of negotiations between Czechoslovakia and her autonomy-demanding Sudeten German minority, Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain hurried back from a vacation in Scotland to meet Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax and Sir John Simon, chancellor of the exchequer.

A breakdown in negotiations between the Czechoslovak government and the Sudeten German minority over the latter's demands for self-government was itself sufficient to bring the prime minister back to London, but Chamberlain was reported to be especially concerned about suspicions said to have been voiced abroad that Great Britain was responsible for the breakdown.

An editorial in the pro-government times, suggesting to Czechoslovakia that she might permit the Sudeten Germans to secede and join Germany, was blamed by some observers for this circumstance.

Jan Masaryk, Czechoslovak minister to London, obtained a foreign office denial that the editorial had official sanction or that it reflected the views of the British government.

BEATEN, ROBBED BY HITCHHIKERS

SWEET SPRINGS, Mo., Sept. 8—(AP)—Edward R. Shaffer of Billings, Mont., was found at the side of U. S. highway 40 today suffering from a broken jaw which he said was inflicted by two hitchhikers with a jack handle while robbing him of $78.

Shaffer, who was on the way to visit his wife at Dexter, Mo., said he picked up the hitchhikers near Kansas City. Two suspects were arrested and taken to the county jail at Marshall.

MANY ACCUSED OF RACKETEERING AND VIOLENCE

Thirteen Indictments By Federal Grand Jury At Kansas City

REPORT CRITICAL ON VANDALISM

"So-Called Organizers" Alleged To Have Intimidated

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 8—A special county grand jury returned 13 indictments today embracing vandalism and racketeering charges and placed the blame for bombings, window-smashing and terrorism on a group of "so-called labor organizers."

The report specified that the "so-called organizers" were interested only in self-enrichment and "have worked together to intimidate both employers and employes."

"There can be no doubt that the bombings and other destruction of property and the unmerciful beatings administered to laboring men can all be laid at the door of this same group of labor organizers," the report stated.

"The most serious aspect of the entire grand jury investigation lies in the fact that legitimate union labor has been used as a tool to fix prices of commodities and services by this same group of so-called labor organizers. . . . Union labor should put itself on guard against being used unlawfully for such purposes and should promptly remove all its representatives who so attempt to regulate the price at which anything may be sold. That is a matter entirely within the range and to be determined solely by the owner of the establishment selling the commodity or services."

The 13 indictments, returned with six others relating to routine cases, named approximately 50 persons. All names were kept secret, pending arrests, except that of W. H. (Wally) Mahan, deposed official of a retail clerks' union.

Mahan, named in a vandalism indictment, now is in jail serving a year's term for malicious destruction of property.

The grand jury, in a report on its investigation of more than two months, said it was evident "that honest union labor is being intimidated, threatened and subject to physical violence by a group of so-called union organizers whose only interest is to enrich themselves at the expense of the membership of labor union."

The report pointed out that every union labor man appearing before the grand jury condemned racketeering and vandalism.

The grand jury criticised as unjustified the recent action of the lumber yards in closing their plants and putting up signs stating labor violence and lack of police protection were the cause.

The report stated most of the lumber dealers "frankly admitted that the closing was unnecessary" and that the signs "had given Kansas City an unfortunate and uncalled for reputation."

The grand jury was called into session for the special investigation June 29. At that time more than 500 windows had been smashed in 170 business houses of Kansas City and nine mysterious bombs had been set off since the first of the year.

Thomas F. Fitzgerald, who became acting circuit judge here after his ouster by Gov. Lloyd C. Stark as state liquor supervisor, cautioned the jurors to keep in mind there are two sides in labor troubles.

Over 2,000 Questioned

"There may be labor racketeers," he said, "but there may be also employers who are defying the law of the land in conspiring to build a backfire against legitimate labor organizations."

The grand jury heard 466 witnesses. More than 2,000 persons were questioned by police and special investigators.

Earlier this week, Roy W. Rucker, a labor attorney, filed a petition asking that the grand jury foreman, Shannon Douglass, be disqualified because he was a lawyer and allegedly had disclosed secrets of the jury. Fitzgerald termed the petition an "eleventh hour" move and overruled it.

Cliff Langsdale, a labor attorney, assailed the grand jury in a Labor day speech, charging it was making use of "trumped-up evidence" against certain labor leaders. He also charged that $52,000 had been solicited from business men by an association to finance "spying" activities.

Douglass, replying indirectly to Langsdale, said the labor attorney had been given all the time he asked to appear before the grand jury with the information.

Society AND Clubs

Family Reunion

Children of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Wolf, rural route 2, gathered at their home on Sunday to celebrate the forty-fourth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Wolf and the thirteenth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Pabst, 2049 East Seventh street.

Mr. and Mrs. Wolf were married September 4, 1894 at St. Andrew's Catholic church in Tipton. Mrs. Pabst, who was married to Mr. Pabst on September 3, 1925, at St. Patrick's church here, was formerly Miss Sophia Wolf, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wolf. Those attending the celebration, in addition to Mr. and Mrs. Pabst and their family were Mr. and Mrs. Tony Schreck and family of Fortuna, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Wood Long and family, Miss Margaret Wolf and Henry Wolf.

Charivaried Couple

Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Smith of Smithton, a bride and groom of the past week returned home Sunday night from a short honeymoon trip spent in the Ozarks. On Monday night 75 or 100 relatives and friends gathered at the bridegroom's parents home and gave the newlyweds an old time charivari. Refreshments of ice cream and wafers were served.

Miss Smith Wins Popularity Contest

Miss June Smith, a native of Sedalia, 26-year-old patient at the state sanitorium, Mount Vernon, was elected Miss San-O-Zark for 1938, in a popularity contest sponsored by the Missouri San-O-Zark, a publication issued monthly by the Missouri State Sanitorium.

Miss Smith is a talented pianist. She first entered the sanitorium in May, 1930 and was discharged in May, 1931. She returned in October, 1934, and is now well along the road to recovery.

Homemakers Of County Line Meet

The County Line Homemakers club met in regular session on Thursday, with Mrs. Charles Kuykendall, hostesses and Mrs. Jessie Wear and Miss Iva Wear assisting hostesses.

Roll call was answered with "How I Remove Stains."

Visitors, other than members present were: Miss Van Orsdol, home demonstration agent, Miss Wilson, county health nurse, and Miss Ramlow, of Boonville, Hazel Licklider and Winona Wear.

Miss Wilson spoke on health and Miss Van Orsdol gave a demonstration on school lunches.

Mrs. Hubert, who recently moved into the neighborhood from St. Louis, was presented as a new club member.

Liberty Homemakers Elect Officers

Mrs. H. W. Pasley was re-elected president of the Liberty Homemakers Extension club at the regular all-day session held at the home of Mrs. J. F. Raney on Wednesday. During the morning meeting Mrs. Claire L. Montgomery spoke on plans for the Achievement day program to be given at the park September 29, and Dr. J. W. Boger addressed the group during the afternoon session.

Other officers elected to serve for the coming year are: Mrs. E. D. Botts, vice president; Mrs. G. H. Paige, secretary; Mrs. J. M. Boone, treasurer; and Mrs. S. F. Long, reporter. Mrs. P. B. Green will be the game and song leader. Committee chairmen selected were Mrs. J. F. Raney, child development; Mrs. G. A. Freese, reading; and Mrs. B. G. Smith, program and dramatic leader.

Visitors at the meeting were members of the Flat Creek Homemakers and Mrs. J. F. Harding. The club will meet next with Mrs. H. W. Pasley on Wednesday, October 5. It was announced that the roll call response will be "A Scene That Has Appealed to Me Most This Year."

Sororities Rush Season in Full Swing

COLUMBIA, Mo., Sept. 8—(AP)—The University of Missouri's sorority rushing season was in full swing here today for nearly 200 girls, most of whom were graduated last year from Missouri high schools.

A round of parties honoring the rushees, which began yesterday, at a dozen sorority houses, will end with pledging ceremonies Saturday night.

The fraternities will do their "rushing" over the week end and will announce pledge lists Sunday night.

Although indications point to a record-breaking university enrollment during registration next week, sorority house officials said the crop of rushees on hand today was slightly smaller than last year.

Federal Music Class To Present Program

The WPA federal music class will give a recital at 7:30 o'clock Friday night, in the church at Ninth street and Montgomery avenue.

Miss Helen Heiligman will present her senior music class, also the children's chorus, at this recital. The public is invited.

Following is the program to be rendered:

Piano Duet, Virginia Janzen, Wallace Janzen.

FORESTRY CLUB AT MAPLEWOOD

The Maplewood Forestry Club was organized September 5th at Maplewood Grange hall under the leadership of Miss Anna Franklin. Before organizing Miss Franklin gave a short talk on trueness and loyalty to a 4-H club after becoming a member. The following officers were elected:

President—J. W. Rissler.

Vice President—Harvey Thompson.

Secretary—Miss Mary Ed Rissler.

Reporter—Miss Dorothy Helen White.

Song Leader—Miss Katheryne L. Uffman.

The following committees were appointed: Selecting a name for the club—Miss Dorothy H. White, Robert Barrick, Miss Annabelle Uffman.

Select club goals—Miss Katheryne L. Uffman, William Williams.

The club meetings will be held the second Wednesday night of each month at Maplewood Grange hall at 7:30 o'clock.

The third Sunday in September the members will assemble at Maplewood school and from there will go to the woods to collect leaves. Each member should bring a sharp knife, a magazine to place their leaves in.

The next meeting will be held at Maplewood Grange hall the second Wednesday in October at 7:30 p. m. Roll call is "Name Characteristics of a Leaf." A short talk will be given by Miss Katheryne L. Uffman, and a demonstration by Billy Rissler. Ralph Banning with two assistants will be in charge of the refreshments. All members are asked to bring a box, and be sure your club material is in it, if not you will be fined one penny which will be added to the club funds. All members are urged to attend.

The evening was closed by playing old folk games. Light refreshments were served by Miss Mary Ed Rissler and Billy Rissler.

FLORIDA MISS TO BEAUTY FINALS

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 8.—(AP)—An acrobatic Florida high school miss today became one of three young ladies who will compete for the honor of being termed "most talented" among 44 American beauties in the National Beauty Pageant.

With two others to be selected tonight and tomorrow, dimpled Gloria Smyley—"Miss Jacksonville"—will perform Saturday night for the talent crown.

On the same night she and the 43 others will compete for the more coveted title of "Miss America"—Most beautiful girl in the pageant.

The names of five semi-finalists already chosen for the "Miss America" competition will be kept secret until Saturday night. Then with five beauties to be chosen tonight and five more tomorrow they will be presented for final eliminations.

Some glimpses of last night's pageant:

Miss Jacksonville — This child has something. Wore shiny blue satin bathing suit, and she came out with a dramatic bing, did a quick overhead flip and went on to a tortuous acrobatic dance. Twisted her high school form into everything but pretzel shape, walked all over the stage on her hands and sent the crowd into a frenzy when she wound up with a dozen rapid cartwheels. Her dimpled smile will get her places.

Miss Arizona—Graceful. Sighs were heard when she came out for dramatic recital, because they're poison to pageant mobs, but this was a good one and the audience thundered applause. Whistled for second appearance.

Miss Cleveland — Did expert high-kick dance in transparent net skirt and white sequins jacket. The crowd called her out for a bow. Attractive in bathing suit.

Miss Riverside, N. J.—Perfect darling in white bathing suit. In skimpy white shorts and halter trimmed in gold braid she did a military tap dance.

Miss Montgomery—Tremendous applause for singing something about a little yellow basket, topped off with a good trucking job.

Miss Debray Beach, Fla.—Very sweet and very slender. In timid, quavering voice she, too, was worried about the little yellow basket. Got loud sympathy vote from the spectators.

Miss Oklahoma — Beautiful round face and reddish hair. Sang like a little girl in church recital.

Glad To Tell Others Of His Experience With The KruGon

Faulty Elimination Had Clogged Mr. J. F. Reece's System With Impurities; Muscular Aches and Pains Had Made Him Miserable; Now Happy Over KruGon Action.

KruGon shows surprising power in getting to the very source of the trouble causing the most stubborn and severe cases of gas and bloated feeling in the stomach after eating, indigestion; back pains, night risings; dizzy spells, bilious attacks; muscular aches and pains. Is it any wonder that this laxative-tonic formula has become so popular throughout this section in the short time it has been known here? Read what Mr. J. F. Reece, 501 West Fifth street, Sedalia, a respected local man, said recently in talking with the KruGon Man at the McFarland and Robinson Drug Co., 104 West Main Street, this city:

"My health had been questionable for the past forty-five years before I knew of KruGon," said Mr. Reece, "Those awful muscular aches and pains settled over my entire system it seemed and I was kept in continual misery. That awful suffering would come and go and I never knew when it was going to attack me. Once it became so severe I was confined to my bed. Since that time the attacks have been more frequent until it was almost a case of constant misery. Then last January, a year ago, I had a stroke and my system was not able to throw off the poisons naturally. I became clogged with impurities and grew steadily worse until I could hardly stand it any longer. I had to use a cane to get around at all. But then I learned of this KruGon compound, began its use, and the results it gave me were amazing."

"KruGon did the same for me that it was doing for others right here in Sedalia and little did I expect such complete action," continued Mr. Reece, "I had to start out fairly strong with this laxative-tonic formula but after I began to show results I cut the dosage down to one capsule each day and I am showing steady improvement. Those aches and pains over my body have been relieved, get around much easier than I have in many many months and it is such a blessing to feel so good again. I am on my third box of KruGon now and while a man in my condition should not expect too much this laxative-tonic formula, KruGon has eliminated the poisons from my overcrowded system and I am feeling the best I have in years."

The KruGon Man is daily meeting the local public at the McFarland and Robinson Drug Co., 104 West Main Street, this city, where he is introducing and explaining the action of this laxative-tonic formula.

MEN LOVE GIRLS WITH PEP

If you are peppy and full of fun, men will invite you to dances and parties.

BUT if you are cross, listless and tired, men won't be interested. Men don't like "quiet" girls. When they go to parties they want girls along who are full of pep.

So in case you need a good general system tonic, remember for 3 generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling thru" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps build up more physical resistance and thus aids in giving you more pep and lessens distress from female functional disorders.

You'll find Pinkham's Compound WELL WORTH TRYING!

Many persons have found that the use of our funeral home is desirable. We recommend its use, but the decision is one which we leave entirely to the family.

RUDOLPH VALENTINO and VILMA BANKY
In a scene from "SON of the SHEIK"

Romance and adventure will ride rampant over the Uptown Theatre screen starting Sunday for a three day engagement, when Rudolph Valentino returns in his last and greatest picture, "Son of the Sheik."

Brought back again by a genuine popular demand, in exactly its original form except for the addition of modernistic musical score, and dramatic sound effects, "Son of the Sheik" is a thrilling, action-packed drama of the great Arabian desert. Valentino plays both the sheik of the picturesque Sahara and the role of his strong-willed, swashbuckling son who, while keeping a rendezvous with his sweetheart, a dancing slave girl, enacted by the ever popular Vilma Banky, is kidnapped by a band of Moorish robbers.

Riding recklessly over the hot desert sands, making daring love to his sweetheart, and avenging himself single-handed against the Moors, Valentino portrays once more the romantic character that endeared him to millions. Never, since "Son of the Sheik" was last seen in its silent version, has any picture so captured and captivated the entire world.

LAUREL AND HARDY FUNNIER THAN EVER IN "BLOCK-HEADS"

In "Block-Heads," new Hal Roach-MGM comedy starring Laurel and Hardy, and coming to the Liberty Theatre tomorrow and Saturday, the comedians find themselves in a swank, modern apartment house. The dignity of the surroundings, however, offers no bar to their continuous merriment. In fact, the austerity of the backgrounds makes their famous gags all the more ludicrous, and the current comedy contains an abundance of side-splitting incidents.

In addition to the active imaginations of Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy, who can endow the most trivial of incidents with the laugh-compelling qualities either in real life or before the camera, they have been assisted in the new venture by a group of Hollywood's best known comedy creators.

The supporting cast includes Patricia Ellis, Minna Gombell, Billy Gilbert, one of filmdom's outstanding dialect comedians and James Finlayson.

All of the studio's resources for the making of entertaining and stimulating comedies were placed at the disposal of the Laurel and Hardy unit. The result is a greater proportion of laugh-provoking sequences in "Block Heads" than has been found in any recent comedy.

RATIFY AGREEMENT WITH TRUCK LINES

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Farrell Dobbs of Minneapolis, official of the international brotherhood of teamsters and chauffeurs, said Wednesday afternoon union representatives had ratified unanimously an agreement with operators of truck lines in 13 midwest states.

Approximately 70 per cent of the 3,000 operators in the area and all Chicago operators, he said agreed to terms of the agreement Aug. 31 at Chicago. The agreement went into effect immediately with these operators.

The agreement covers freight employes in Illinois, Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, the Dakotas, Nebraska and territory contiguous to the south bank of the Ohio river between Portsmouth, O., and Paducah, Ky., and Kansas City, Kas.

Don't Let Constipation Drag On!

Do you often have days when you wake up tired—when you feel dull, sunk, "all bogged down"? It's time you did something about it. And something more than just taking a physic! You should get at the cause of the trouble!

If you eat what most people do—just bread, meat, potatoes—chances are that just this fact is responsible: you don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean a lot of food. It means a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines that helps a bowel movement.

If this is your trouble, what you need is crisp crunchy Kellogg's All-Bran for breakfast. It contains "bulk" plus Nature's great intestinal tonic, vitamin B1. Eat it every day, drink plenty of water, and see if your old sparkle doesn't come back! Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

The Unseen Hand . .

SEND an expedition to Africa to film this glorious novel in its authentic locale!

Locate a little English boy to depict the heart-stirring story of a beloved Dickens character!

Search the world for the one man who knows better than all others how people lived in Elizabethan days — what they wore, what they ate, the manner of their dress and their talk!

Reconstruct an historic palace—re-create an historic battle — build a volcano! Erect a city and set it aflame! Loose a flood that will wash whole villages away!

It is you who order these things — and they are done. And whether you applaud with your hands or your heart at the conclusion of a motion picture, your approval echoes in the lives of unseen thousands who have collaborated in its making.

It is for your entertainment that an army of the world's greatest talents is ever on the march, forging ahead to open new vistas for your delight — adding brilliant new recruits from all the arts every day in the year.

Spare nothing, says Hollywood, to make the motion picture theatre the happy haven it is, the place to which millions may confidently come for freedom from boredom and care . . . for suspense that makes the pulse beat faster . . . for romance that warms the heart . . . for hearty laughter and eye-filling beauty.

The unseen hands applaud — and we who make motion pictures hear the echo. It guides us, inspires us, challenges us to fresh endeavors to make the movies better and better.

Now — on the eve of the Golden Jubilee of motion pictures — there is ready for you a remarkable array of new productions — the finest, we feel, that have ever been presented in a single season. On them we have lavished all our skill, all our experience, all our resources.

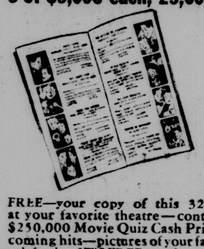

Here are pictures to charm and to thrill — pictures to amaze and amuse — pictures destined to weave their magic about the hearts and the minds of millions of people — to lighten their labor and brighten their lives, to lift them out of the drab, workaday world into a new world of wonder — timeless and boundless.

See them — give yourself up to their spell — relax and let them work their magic. They are a tonic for your mind and your heart — they are good for what ails you.

Irving Berlin's ALEXANDER'S RAGTIME BAND

THEIR plan worked. Producer Dillingham came to the Cliff House to hear Alexander's Ragtime Band. But the results were unexpected. Stella's charming voice immediately struck him as marking her a future star. He offered her a contract for a Broadway show. But there was nothing said about the band. In vain, Stella promised to use her efforts to get the boys a New York break. Hurt and angry, Alexander refused to listen to her.

WHEN next Stella heard of Alexander, he was in the Army. The United States had entered the World War, and the old band group had all joined up. Charlie Dwyer was separated from the rest. Alexander, at Camp Upton, N. Y., was in charge of a show staged to aid the recruiting drive. Stella hurried to the theatre to see him, but he sent word he did not want to see her again.

BEFORE an enthusiastic and patriotic audience, Alexander's doughboy show went on. For two acts it "brought down the house," and Stella, in the audience, swelled with pride at the fine job her old friend had done. Eagerly, she looked forward to making up with him backstage. But suddenly, the troops donned full marching equipment, and started to march out of the theatre. Sudden orders had come, transferring them aboard a transport for France. Tearfully, Stella could only wave a forlorn farewell in Alexander's direction as he marched out of the show house.

TWO years in France had given Alexander a chance to realize how unreasonable he had been with Stella. When he returned to New York, he rushed to find her, to ask her forgiveness for what he had done. He found her, but there was a strange restraint in her welcome. Something warned him of defeat. (To be continued)

PRO FOOTBALL OPENS ON FRIDAY

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—Tune-up flights preparatory to the pro-football championship take-off brought six triumphs against college all star elevens and aerial maneuvers played major roles. Chicago's Bears won a pair and New York, Cleveland, Philadelphia and Chicago's Cardinals one apiece.

Indications the 1938 race would be decided in the air were seen in the rival eleven's rush to streamline their offensives with plenty of passing power after the 1937 success of Sammy Baugh and the Redskins.

The turn to aerial combat was expected to send the attendance soaring. Last year around a million and a half paid to watch the money players.

Pittsburgh was one of the first to grease the turnstiles for 1938 by acquiring a star passer. The Pirates signed Colorado's Whizzer White, and he will make his pro debut tomorrow night at Detroit against another favorite son of Colorado—Dutch Clark, the Lions' playing coach.

The game will officially open the pro season.

Green Bay's Packers have obtained Cecil Isbell, Purdue ace, whose mighty throws humbled the Redskins in the Chicago all star game. Chicago's Cardinals have added Jack Robbins of Arkansas, considered Baugh's equal in the southwest, and Dwight Sloan, Robbins' backfield teammate of last year. To the deadly passing of Bernie Masterson and Buzz Buivid, Chicago's Bears have coupled that of Joe Gray of Oregon State.

The Sports Roundup

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—(AP)—A love story authored by Henry Armstrong six months ago is being given the once over in the RKO studios in Hollywood . . . Six man football is being seriously considered by some of the smaller schools down in Virginia. . . . Al Hostak may lay his middleweight title on the line against Fred Apostoli here in November, but we doubt it . . . Three former Kansas State footballers are playing rugby with the Regina, Saskatchewan team this year . . . Strongest drink in Harlem is the Joe Louis cocktail which goes over the bar for only a dime.

There may have been bigger soft ball tournaments in the country, but you name 'em . . . The Houston Chronicle put on a show which drew 126 teams and some 1,700 players and they had to turn down out-of-town entries . . . Give Dick Porter a big hand for a swell job of managing at Syracuse . . . He took over a last place club and now has it on the second rung of the ladder . . . George Koverly is the new "big bad wolf" of the wrestling combine . . . He's the bird they put in to give the works to Dr. Patrick O'Callaghan, the visiting fireman from Ireland, who turned out to be just too much of a wrassler for everybody's good.

Old Vinnie Richards, who knows his tennis, thinks Adrain Quist was the victim of "over-officiousness" in the cup matches . . . The Yanks are the first club in many years to have five players with 20 homers or better . . . And with only 24 games remaining, the Ruppert riflers must slam out only 23 more round trippers to shatter their own record of 182 made in 1936.

Coach Ray Morrison at Vanderbilt would like to trade a few high class backs for a couple of tackles and a center to replace Carl Hinkle . . . Baseball comeback in St. Paul this year is remarkable for just a few years ago they were threating to sell the franchise down the river . . . Young Jack Gibbons, son of old Phantom Mike,, who hung up the gloves to become a salesman, has taken a permanent manager in Miss Vida Morch of Minneapolis.

GIANTS DEFEAT ALL-STARS 6 TO 0

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Ward Cuff booted two 42-yard field goals last night and thus kicked the New York Giants of the national fotball league into a 6-0 victory over the Eastern college all-stars in the third Herald-Tribune fresh air fund benefit game before a crowd of 40,382 at the Polo grounds.

Cuff, who used to toss the javelin for Marquette university, proved equally proficient and much more accurate at kicking a football. His two successful placements, both made from slight angles, were almost the only high spots in a game that lacked excitement although it produced plenty of the "old college try" on the part of the all-stars.

The all-stars couldn't do much about Cuff's kicking, but they threw up a defense that took the ball on downs from the professionals on the collegians' 6-yard line in the second quarter, and that broke up another threat as Alex Wojciechowicz, formerly of Fordham, intercepted one of Ed Danowski's forward passes in his own end zone and brought it out four yards.

FORMER SEDALIANS FIND BOY'S BODY IN RIVER

Two former Sedalians, Ray Atwood and "Buck" Presby, formerly of 1820 South Prospect avenue, this city, now of Batchtown, Ill., where they are employed in some carpenter work, on the night of September 1, crossed the Mississippi river to set some lines for fishing. The afternoon before a twenty year old boy had fallen from a river barge and drowned and the two Sedalians found the body, which had floated down the river.

BOOTS THE FOOT BACK IN FOOTBALL

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Ward Cuff, one of football's great place-kickers, booted the "foot" back into football last night.

Cuff, a lanky young man who labored unsung in the great Marquette backfield of 1936, kicked two terrific field goals, one from the 42yard line in the second quarter and another from the same spot in the fourth, to whip the eastern college All-Stars for the New York Giants, 6 to 0.

Cuff's two hoists dealt wholesale misery to most of the 40,382 on hand at the Polo Grounds to watch the third game sponsored by the New York Herald Tribune's fresh air fund.

The All-Stars gave it the old college try. They sent Al Hessberg of Yale and Andy Stopper of Villanova around the ends. They smacked the line with Pitt's big Bill Stapulis. But it was no use. They couldn't score and, although the Giants couldn't pierce one of the best of All-Star lines, they could kick over it and win the ball game.

The Giants' line, including such husky operatives as Ed Widseth, old Minnesota Blue, and the pugnacious Tarzan White, had all it could do to handle the All-Stars. Led by Alex Wojciehowicz, Fordham's great 1937 center, and Ed Franco, the all-American tackle, the ex-collegians held the Giants' backfield to a net of 74 yards from scrimmage.

Penney Farm Wins Award

LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 8.—(AP)—J. C. Penney, Missouri Farms, Hamilton, Mo., won senior and grand champion mare prizes on June in the Percheon horse division, open livestock class, at the Nebraska state fair here Wednesday.

SETS A RECORD OF 420 STRIKEOUTS

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Sept. 8—(AP)—Virgil Trucks, 19-year-old smokeballer, who set a modern record of 420 strikeouts in the Alabama-Florida league this summer, predicted without batting an eye today he could break his own mark with Detroit next year.

"I believe I can strikeout more than 420," the six-foot youngster drawled. "That ball I had to pitch down at Andalusia was like a pumpkin. Give me a good ball next year and a longer season and I can strike out more."

Moved To St. Louis

Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Washburn and children, Max and Maxine, former Sedalians, are now pleasantly located at 3869 Botanical avenue, St. Louis. Mr. Washburn has been there for three years, but Mrs. Washburn maintained their home here until the children graduated from high school, then the family moved from their home here, 1008 South Missouri avenue, to St. Louis.

VISITORS HERE ON THE WAY TO HOLLYWOOD

Mrs. Fred Kennedy, wife of Fire Chief Kennedy of Indianapolis, has been a guest of the George Wilderman family, 608 West Second street. She left Sedalia accompanied by Mrs. Maude Hansen, of Indianapolis to visit the latter's daughter, Eleanor Hansen, of Universal Studios, Hollywood. Miss Hansen recently played in a movie with Barbara Stanwyck. Mrs. Kennedy was much impressed with Missouri, particularly Sedalia, and expects to make a return visit here.

GAINING ON DEATH

During the first six months of this year, 3,670 automobile deaths were prevented in this country! That is based on a comparison of motor vehicle deaths in the first half of 1938 as against the same period in 1937. The decline in fatalities that began last November carried through encouragingly into July.

So far so good. But, as the National Safety Council points out, "This is no time to quit in our fight for safety. This is just the beginning." We've won a partial victory. Unremitting effort on the part of every motorist, pedestrian, traffic judge and law enforcement officer is needed if the victory is to be ultimately complete.

Some of the most dangerous driving months lie ahead. Traffic during September is always heavy. And with the coming of the rains, snow and ice, plus the shorter daylight hours of fall and winter, motoring presents new and difficult hazards. There will be no time for standing still and praising past achievements in safety, until December 31 has passed, and the figures are all in.

A saving of 3,670 lives is a magnificent thing. And it shows that traffic accidents, the pessimists to the contrary, can be sharply reduced. During the first half of this year, there was more and better organized community and state safety work than ever before. We have gradually learned that sporadic safety campaigns solve no problem, and that permanence and continuity of effort are vital. We are learning what courteous, "fixless" law enforcement can do. And we are also learning the excellent results that follow better traffic engineering and scientific traffic control.

You're one of the soldiers in this fight against death. The country needs your help. Keep up the good work—and make it still better.

TOO GOOD CHEER

It would seem that one of the most valuable lessons of the last decade in connection with the solution of public problems was the necessity in any crisis, real or apparent, for universal candor, thorough realism and absolute freedom of discussion.

How real or how immediate the threat of war is in Europe the average American citizen has no certain way of knowing. He learns from news dispatches what the current European state of mind seems to be. His right also is to know the true convictions of men who may be in a better position than he to hazard guesses on the matter.

A high government official recently made a plea to business men to soft-pedal their talk on "the jittery effect of possible war." He also submitted the observation, at another point, that business was getting better. The proximity of the two remarks must have had an unfortunate effect on anyone who remembered the blackest days of the depression.

The average man recalls the forced gaiety and strained optimism that enjoyed a boom among public speakers when the country was simply walking deeper into a swamp. Any excess of optimism bearing the slightest hint of the phoney in it these days is likely to produce a respectable set of jitters on its own hook.

This is no plea for crepe-hanging, but a reminder that little Johnny Q. Citizen has been growing up in the last few years, and that honesty is in order.

America is not a polyglot boarding house.—Senator Vandenberg of Michigan.

ADVICE FOR POLITICIANS

Condensed from an article written by Meredith Nicholson, United States minister to Nicaragua, for your consideration:

Mr. Nicholson addresses the young man contemplating a career in politics. He recommends, among other things, that the young man try to be tolerant, be willing to listen, rid himself of any snobbishness he may have, and do his own thinking.

"If I were counselling a serious young aspirant as to how to begin a political career," he remarks at another point, "I should advise him first of all to make a study of some phase of government administration."

For your consideration: All this, you would think, should be taken for granted. Certainly no less could be demanded of any man in politics. It ought not need to be pointed out. But it does need to be—there is a crying need for those elemental things to be reaffirmed—and Mr. Nicholson knows it. And isn't THAT a sad thing for your consideration?

NOTE OF OPTIMISM

The business indexes still tend upward. As the Annalist puts it, "So far as can be seen the recovery movement is continuing in a generally satisfactory manner."

It is true that in many lines there has been little or no actual betterment as yet. But even there, sentiment has undergone substantial change, and leaders are looking to the immediate future with a great deal more equanimity than they did a few months back when all that could be seen on the economic horizon was storm clouds.

Steel recently passed 40 per cent of capacity for the first time since last November. Employment has been jumping in the automobile industry, due to preparation for next year's cars. Electric power is nearing its high for this year.

Retail sales have been down, as usually happens in the summer, but the decline has not been greater than seasonal in most states. Good fall business is anticipated.

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY GO ROUND

TRADE MARK — REGISTERED

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON—The underlying recovery situation is a lot better than surface appearances would indicate.

On the surface the trend, while definitely upward, still is of modest proportions. But the underlying propulsive factors—the really significant concomitants of recovery—are much more cheering. They show conclusively that recovery is under way and will become increasingly evident in the coming months.

The inside story is told in a confidential report made to the President by government experts on the first of this month. Highlights of the study were three key indices, all of them showing an upturn. They follow:

National Income Payments—For the first time since August, 1937, this item, which includes all money paid out in wages, dividends, rentals, etc., went up in July. Previously it had shrunk steadily, but it rose from 78.2 in June to 79.1 in July.

Liquid Securities Market—July was marked by a very active tide of stock and bond flotations, all readily absorbed by investors. This meant two things, improved business confidence and a flow of money into industry for enlarged operations.

Net Government Contribution—This is the amount of money the Government actually is expending on recovery, above the sums it takes in through taxes and other revenues. As distinguished from gross government spending, this is the real pump-priming expenditure. The record shows that when it was eliminated in 1937, business went into a tailspin. Now it is once more on the way to levels that brought about good times in 1935, 1936 and the first half of 1937.

Here are the figures on net government spending which were given Roosevelt:

January	$ 61,000,000
February	96,000,000
March	104,000,000
April	137,000,000
May	174,000,000
June	188,000,000

July—Total still incomplete but well over $200,000,000.

Nudism Investigation

If Martin Dies of Texas acts on a suggestion he has just received, his Congressional committee will stage an investigation of nudism on the ground that it is "a revolting and shameful movement," completely "un-American."

The suggestion comes from an admirer of Congressman Dies in Greensboro, N. C. His letter makes the point that since nudism "has existed for many years in Russia, the home of Communism," the Dies committee should investigate "the goings-on at the nudist camps which are found all over the country" and "look into" the nudist literature which carries portraits of naked men and women.

The biggest laugh is that the communication drags in the name of Representative Clare E. Hoffman, of Michigan, as a former attorney for the proprietor of a nudist camp—Fred C. Ring of Kalamazoo—and suggests that Mr. Hoffman might be "a wolf in sheep's clothing."

Congressman Hoffman is a Republican, and just as much of a flag-waving patriot as the red-baiting Mr. Dies.

Still On Deck

Despite disclosures that Edward F. Sullivan, one of the Dies committee investigators, had been active in anti-Semitic and anti-Catholic movements and had been employed by a strike-breaking and labor spying firm, he is still on the committee payroll.

Commttee member Jack Dempsey of New Mexico has demanded that Chairman Dies dismiss Sullivan, but backed by Representative Joe Starnes of Alabama and the two Republican committee members, Dies has refused to do so.

Instead he has instructed Sullican to submit a reply to the charges against him. Meanwhile Sullivan continues to draw his government pay-chack.

Note—Dempsey flatly refused to permit Sullivan to do any further undercover probing on the Pacific Coast. Dempsey has assumed charge of this area and will conduct his own investigation.

Wonderful Wallace

Newspapers all over the country recently quoted Secretary Wallace as saying that he thought the Administration's farm program "really wonderful."

Henry might think that, but he didn't say it.

What happened was that when Ovid Martin, of the Associated Press, reported a speech of Wallace's before a conference of AAA state committeemen in Washington, he quoted Wallace over the telephone as saying: "I believe the farm program is really workable."

But the rewrite man at the other end of the wire took the word "workable" for "wonderful," and it went out that way over the country. The word "wonderful" survived even in the version of the speech printed later by "Time" magazine.

Argentine Junket

Everybody and his brother wants a free ride to Argentina on the new government-owned ships that will start the South American run next month.

The Maratime Commission has received hundreds of requests from people who think a generous New Deal Government should provide them with an outside stateroom, New York to Buenos Aires and return, because they can speak Spanish, or write stories, or take motion pictures, or sing cowboy songs.

There will be a selected group of junketers when the first ship, the "Brazil," sails from New York on October 8. But they will be top government officials and membres of the Latin American diplomatic corps.

SOME OF STIPULATIONS UNDER THE "FAIR LABOR STANDARDS ACT"

(Editor's Note: Child labor provisions of the new labor standards act which becomes effective Oct. 24 will be administered by the children's bureau of the labor department. In this third of a series of articles, the Associated Press presents some of the questions being asked the children's bureau together with the best answers now obtainable.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—What restrictions other than in connection with wages and hours does the new fair labor standards law provide?

It provides that goods manufactured or handled by oppressive child labor shall not move in channels of interstate commerce.

What is "oppressive child labor?"

It is defined broadly as the labor of a child under the age of 16 years, or of a child between 16 and 18 years in an occupation declared by the chief of the children's bureau to be hazardous for the employment of such children or detrimental to their health or well being.

Who decides whether an occupation is hazardous or detrimental to health?

Administers The Law

The chief of the children's bureau in the department of labor, Miss Katherine Lenroot, who administers the child labor provisions of the law, makes investigations and inspections and, cooperating with the attorney general, brings court actions.

Does this law provide that no child under 16 shall have opportunity to earn wages?

It is not so sweeping. A child may work for his parent or the equivalent; except in manufacturing or mining occupations. Furthermore, the chief of the children's bureau may issue regulations permitting other work of children between 14 and 16 years providing neither their schooling nor health be endangered by it and providing that children between 14 and 16 years shall not be employed in manufacturing or mining occupations.

Must employers in the manufacturing or mining industries dismiss all workers under 18 years of age?

No. The 18-year minimum does not go into effect in any occupation until the chief of the children's bureau finds and declares such occupation too hazardous or detrimental to health or well being and by order puts the 18 year minimum into effect. Such declaration and orders will be preceded by investigations and public hearings which will be given full publicity. The 18-year minimum will be applicable on an occupational rather than an industry basis, therefore it may be found and by order declared that hazardous or detrimental occupations include some but not all employments within a given industry.

Some Are Exempt

Are any occupations specifically exempt from the child labor provisions?

Yes. Agricultural work is exempt providing it does not interfere with legally required schooling. Child actors also are exempted.

What are the penalties for violations of the child labor provisions?

The same as those for violations of wage or hour provisions; a fine (maximum $10,000) or imprisonment (maximum six months) or both, but no imprisonment for first offense.

Are actual employers the only ones liable for violations of the law?

No. Any producer, manufacturer or dealer who ships or delivers for shipment any goods produced in violation of the law may be prosecuted.

Is it necessary for conviction, to prove that the actual goods shipped or delivered were products of child labor.

No, if such illegal, child labor was employed anywhere in or about the establishment from which the goods came within 30 days prior to removal of the goods, it is unlawful to put the goods in the channels of commerce.

Is a common carrier equally liable if he transports such goods?

No. A common carrier is obliged to accept goods for transportation and the law specifically provides that no liability attaches to such a carrier for handling goods produced in violation either of child labor or wage and hour provisions of the law. The law aims at the persons who deliver to the carrier.

(The last of this series of articles on the wage-hour law will appear tomorrow).

BY CHARLES B. PARMER

COPYRIGHT, 1938 NEA SERVICE, INC.

Yesterday: Linda buys the Pompey colt, is offered a handsome profit, refuses it. Uncle Sandy lends the thoroughbred home.

CHAPTER VII

UNCLE SANDY was having his troubles with the colt.

"You, Linda, keep back," he warned sharply, as he led Golden Toy alongside the fence—keeping away from whizzing motors on the highway.

"Uncle Sandy, let me get a van," Linda begged, but he became indignant at the idea. "Ain't no colt I can't handle, if I do be 66. You keep away."

With his hands on a horse's rope, he was different from the seemingly weak old fellow who had chosen his words carefully the night before. Now, he spoke strongly the jargon of the tracks.

Norman met them at the gate, took the halter-rope grudgingly. "This here colt, he be all a-sweatin'," Norman complained, when they reached the barn.

"So'd you be, if you'd been a-dodgin' those dad-blamed cars," Uncle Sandy said. "Take this here dry cloth," he threw a rubbing cloth at Norman, "and you rub that colt till he's all dry—and the cloth's all wet. Bone him good, or I'll baste you."

Norman went to work surily.

"What's come over Norman?" Linda asked, when they were in the house. Then, with an amused start, she noted that she, too, was lapsing into the colloquial.

"That fool Norman?" Uncle Sandy said. "He's got religion in his old age. Thinks racing is a tool of the devil." He shot a quick glance at his niece.

"How come you hook up so quick-like with this Brown Donald?"

She smiled at his abruptness. "I had about gone my limit, and I wanted the colt."

* * *

HE said nothing to that. Just nodded his head. She didn't have the money he thought she had. They moved out to the front porch.

"This here Donald, the young fool wants to make a lepper out of that colt," Uncle Sandy resumed after a bit.

She found herself defending the idea. "What's wrong with that?"

"What's wrong? There ain't but about three steeplechases in the world that's worth runnin' after. It's a rich man's game. Every time you send a horse out, chances are he'll come a cropper and bust his neck at a fence. We're going after the Jockey Club Stakes—"

"I must see about supper," Linda interrupted and went inside.

At early dark, she and Uncle Sandy were sitting on the porch when a car stopped at the gate, and a man came up the walk.

"Anybody home?" It was Bruce Radford's voice.

"Come up, son, come up and set," Uncle Sandy called in hospitable tones.

"Hello, Linda," Bruce spoke warmly, as he took her hand. "You got a great colt today—congratulations." He turned to her uncle, and by the light from the hallway Linda saw Bruce take a long envelope from his pocket, give it to the old man.

"Found this in the house; thought you'd like to have it, Mr. Sandy."

* * *

HER uncle took the envelope. "Oh—er—thank you, son." He got up. "Excuse me. Think I'll see if the colt be bedded down." He went inside.

"You didn't come to try and buy Golden Toy?" Linda asked coolly.

"No. And I don't blame you for not selling. Mind if I sit down?"

"Why not?"

He sat on the steps at her feet, as a new moon rose over the sycamores. He was silent for a time. So was she.

"Linda?" There was emotion in his voice.

"Yes, Bruce." She was matter-of-fact.

"This reminds me of Barrow street. Remember?"

They had gone to New York in the same year. She had lived on Barrow, in the Village; he on Commerce. She was on an afternoon paper, he on a morning. On his nights off, they'd go out together; drink Angelina's red wine, eat her tasty antipasto and spaghetti, come back and talk at Linda's.

"Remember the first time we saw the moon over the warehouse roof?" he reminded her.

"I also remember some tall talk, Bruce," she prodded him, "talk about a great novel you were writing. Sinclair Lewis was going to be a selling-plater alongside you. Remember?"

He ran his fingers through his hair. "I've sold two stories since being back home here."

"Two? You should have sold two dozen! I suppose you sold them to the biggest magazines?"

"Not exactly. They were detective yarns—but wait! They may have been terrible, but the money was good."

* * *

SHE shook her head. "Bruce, I'm ashamed of you. A big, fat man, living on inherited money."

"Wait a minute! I've had my troubles. And I can at least say—" he broke off.

"Say what?" Still he didn't finish. "Go on," she urged.

"I saw you fall like a ton of brick today—for Brown Donald."

"What's this?" She straightened in anger, but she knew his charge was true. "I think you are disgraceful, Bruce!"

"I just wanted to say," his words came in a drawl, "I may be a fat, lazy bum, but it's my family's money I'm living on; what little's left. I'm not living on women."

"Bruce Radford!" She got to her feet. So did he. "What do you mean?"

He looked up, took her hand. She jerked it free. "Listen, Linda—I was crazy about you, but you gave me the gate. I'm still crazy—"

"Never mind that! Explain—"

"Well, I don't think you'd ever met Donald, till today. I heard about how the two of you chipped in—bought the colt. All right, all right! I know that's your business. But, Linda—"

"That's right! When a man gets the best of you, naturally you get mad about it."

"But, Linda, you don't know the man's reputation: for the last year a Pennsylvania woman has been keeping him, while he's been riding her jumpers. Before that it was another woman—"

"I don't believe a word of it!" Linda flared.

"But it's the truth, I tell you."

She was getting excited. "Well, I don't believe a word you say, but—at least he never let an old, sick man be forced to pay his last dollar, on a debt he wasn't morally obligated for."

For a moment Radford didn't answer. Then he looked up. She saw him grin in the moonlight. "Did you say sick, Linda?"

His question, his grinning face, disconcerted her.

"Good night, Linda," he said, rising. He turned from her, went down the path to his car, drove quickly off.

After a long while Linda went inside. Her uncle was reaching down to pick up the long envelope which Bruce Radford had given him. It had fallen to the floor.

UNITY URGED BY CIO AND THE AFL

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 8.—Unity between the CIO and the American Federation of Labor "because of the economic crisis" was urged by the CIO's United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America at its annual convention yesterday.

The resolution pointed out that "7,000,000 organized workers are divided among themselves despite their common aims and objectives." Loyalty to the principle of industrial unionism for mass production industries was affirmed. It also was proposed to extend the offer of unity to the railroad brotherhoods.

The union, fifth largest in the CIO, lists its membership at 137,000.

SAYS MOVIE HEAD GAVE BRIBE TO UNION OFFICIAL

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Jeff Kibre, chairman of a film technician's committee charged before the national labor relations board Wednesday Joseph M. Schenck, president of the Association of Motion Picture Producers, Inc., paid a $100,000 bribe to a union official to prevent 12,000 movie employes from organizing for collective bargaining under the Wagner act.

APPROVES $48,000,000 FOR SLUM CLEARANCE LOANS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—(AP)—President Roosevelt approved Wednesday loan contracts totalling $48,279,000 for 30 additional slum clearance projects in 18 cities.

Largest loan was $9,830,000 made to New Orleans.

Today's contracts brought the total of United States housing authorities to $202,807,000 in 43 cities.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. 25 cents. Stubbornly refuse anything else.

'My Skin Was Full of Pimples and Blemishes from Constipation' says Verna Schlepp: "Since using Adlerika the pimples are gone. My skin is smooth and glows with health." Adlerika washes BOTH bowels, and relieves constipation that so often aggravates a bad complexion. McFarland and Robinson, Druggists. —Adv.

P.-T. COUNCIL IN FIRST MEETING OF SCHOOL YEAR

Miss Branstetter Makes Interesting Talk On "Responsibilities"

The initial meeting for the 1938-39 year of the Sedalia Council of Parent-Teachers was held Wednesday afternoon at the public library.

Mrs. William Reed, president, presided. The meeting was opened with the reading of "Our Task," by Mrs. C. F. Appel.

During the business session Mrs. Reed introduced the following new chairmen to fill the vacancies, as several patrons have left town: Historian, Mrs. C. F. Menderhausen; Legislative, Mrs. Ray Howerton; Publicity, Mrs. B. G. Oaks. Mrs. C. F. Appel will have charge of the devotionals for the year.

Under the efficient direction of Mrs. C. E. Van Horn, vice-president and program chairman, the study of Parliamentary Procedure for Parent-Teacher Association will begin with the October meeting.

The following schools in Pettis attained the Standard of Excellence and will receive certificates of merit at the annual state convention to be held October 11-12-13 in Columbia, Mo.: Horace Mann, Whittier, Broadway, Washington, in the city; Bothwell and Liberty, rural. This is the largest number this county and city has had; last year only one, Washington school reached the goal. Next. year Pettis county hopes to be one hundred per cent.

Talk on "Responsibilities"

Miss Otie Branstetter is a convincing speaker and gave an informative and worth-while talk on "Our Repsonsibility to Others."

Miss Branstetter stated that there is an increasing interest in religion, indicated by the trends in the various phases of our life. In taking four major plays on Broadway in New York last year were built on religious themes. Some of our best sellers have been religious books and many requests have been made for new hymn books.

Another significant indication of religious interest in our time is the National Preaching Mission which was established by the Federal Council of Churches in Christ. The parent must continually pray for and with the child.

Miss Branstetter stated as community citizens we should be vitally interested in Christian home-making and Christian community building. Friendliness and the forgiving spirit are the essential principals.

Every individual has unlimited possibilities in her home, church and community. But to realize them one must live close to God so that His spiritual laws of love, service, sacrifice and joy may become as much a part of one of those laws of His we call physical.

In conclusion Miss Branstetter quoted the late G. B. Smith of the Divinity School of the University of Chicago, "To feel oneself a significant person in a universe full of meaning is the source of joy and courage and constructive service."

Mission went into numbers of large cities to find great crowds of people eager and anxious for these meetings. Beside the mass meeting in Madison Square Garden and in Convention Hall in Philadelphia and other large meeting places, special group meetings were held in the afternoon. One of these groups discussed Christian family life. Hundreds of people came to these groups with their questions, anxieties and heart breaking problems. The majority of the crowds in every city were younger mothers who had questions of vital interest to every mother and home-maker.

The three guiding principles for a parent are:

1. To instruct the child daily in righteous living in specific situations. General principles will not produce Christian lives. Boys and girls must be taught to be honest, to be just, to be unselfish, etc., in every situation of life.

2. The parent must give himself and herself as a continuous example for Christian living.

3. The parent must continually pray for and with the child.

JAMES ROOSEFELT STARTS DIET BEFORE OPERATION

ROCHESTER, Minn., Sept. 8.—(AP)—James Roosevelt, son and personal secretary of the President, today started a hospital diet in preparation for a gastric operation early next week.

Mayo clinic physicians said results of treatments for a small gastric ulcer "were rather disappointing" and announced suddenly last night their decision to operate.

His mother, who came here with young Roosevelt two days ago, canceled plans for a return east. The President was notified at Hyde Park.

Hopkins Be On Hand

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8—(AP)—When James Roosevelt undergoes a gastric operation at the Mayo clinic in Rochester, Minn., next week, WPA Administrator Harry L. Hopkins will be on hand as a sympathetic friend who experienced the same operation at the same hospital some time ago.

Hopkins said today he would visit the president's son at Rochester "within the next few days." He was to have made the trip with young Roosevelt's wife but, he said, she already has gone.

SUIT ON NOTES TO TRIAL BY JURY

A suit on three $100 notes is being tried before a jury in the circuit court today, with Ernest Beyer, who resides on the Leftwich farm as plaintiff, J. E. Bridges, Lowell Fethke and James Kendrick of Morgan county, as defendants.

The defendant Bridges sold a jack to Fethke and Kendrick for $300, and they gave him three $100 notes, payable in one, two and three years, respectively, according to the petition. Before the second note was due, according to the evidence, the notes were sold to Beyer for $290 and he is suing for their payment, naming Bridges because he endorsed the notes.

The defendants, Fethke and Kendrick are contending that the animal purchased was not as warranted.

W. W. Blain is representing the plaintiff, S. P. Harlan the defendant Bridges, and A. J. Bollinger of Versailles, the defendants Fethke and Kendrick.

Following are the jurors: Ed Walter, F. Gardner, Clyde Heynen, Roy Holman, Pelham Poulter, James S. Cole, Joe Taylor, J. E. Leftwich, Emmett Turner, Jack Kehl, Glenn Reynolds and R. L. Curtis.

KILLS CHILD, SHOT ANOTHER, AND SELF

TOPEKA, Sept. 8.—Mrs. Doris Ackerman, socially prominent, shot her two children, killing one, then turned the weapon upon herself at their home here today, Captain S. R. Perdue of the police department said.

Duane, Jr., 17, died within a few minutes after reaching the hospital, and Virginia, 18, shot through the chest, was described by physicians as being in a critical condition.

Mrs. Ackerman, with a bullet wound in her head, was not expected to survive, hospital attendants said.

Mrs. G. C. Reiniets, a neighbor of the Ackermans, was quoted by officers as saying that Virginia came running to her home a short time after the shots were heard screaming "mother has lost her mind and shot Junior. See if you can save my mother."

Duane Ackerman, husband of the woman, had gone to his office at the Ackerman-Brock Manufacturing Company when the shooting occurred, the officers said.

Duane, Jr., was a student at Topeka high school, and Virginia would have enrolled at Washburn college this fall.

DEATH SENTENCE IN HOLDUP KILLING

By The Associated Press.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 8—Byron E. King, convicted of a $9-holdup murder, was sentenced today to die in the Missouri lethal gas chamber Nov. 3.

Circuit Judge David J. Murphy pronounced the 27-year-old ex-convict's doom as King gazed at the floor. King formerly lived in Mountain View, Mo., in Howell county.

King is the first St. Louis convicted murderer to be sentenced to the gas chamber. A jury found him guilty in June, 1936, of killing George Speer, a taxicab driver, after robbing him. The Missouri supreme court recently affirmed the death sentence.

WELL KNOWN COLORED HORSESHOER IS DEAD

John A. Williams, well known colored horseshoer, died at his home, 210 East Henry street, at 12:50 o'clock this afternoon. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Flora E. Williams, two daughters, Mrs. Flora Jones, of Kansas City, and Sallie Williams, also by an adopted daughter, Dorothy Williams, of the home, two sisters and other relatives. The body is at the Alexander Funeral Home awaiting completion of funeral arrangements.

OUTFIELDER IS PURCHASED BY ST. LOUIS BROWNS

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 8.—Joe Grace, 22-year-old outfielder, was purchased by the St. Louis Browns today from Memphis of the Southern Association. The price was not announced.

A right-hander and .300 hitter in his three seasons with the Chicks, Grace will report to the Browns next spring. He began his professional career with Paducah, Ky., in 1935.

PLANS FLIGHT TO MADRID TO REJOIN LOYALISTS

DEWITT, Ark., Sept. 8—(AP)—Frank G. Tinker, Jr., Arkansas soldier of fortune, said today he was planning a nonstop flight from the United States to Madrid to resume fighting for the Loyalist forces in the Spanish civil war.

He reported he would be accompanied by six other American pilots whose names were not disclosed. The flight "sometime before Christmas" would be made in three planes.

DISMISSAL FOR CHARGES MADE ON HINES IS URGED

Defense Contends That Case Not Under Conspiracy Law

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Defense counsel today urged dismissal of conspiracy charges against James J. Hines, 61 year old Tammany district leader, asserting that even on the basis of the state's accusations, Hines was only "one of the players on the team"—not a "master mind" of the $20,000,000-a-year Dutch Schultz policy racket.

By this legal strategy, Lloyd Paul Stryker, Hines' attorney, sought to prevent the four-week-old trial from reaching the "blue ribbon" jury.

Stryker asked Justice Ferdinand Pecora for dismissal of the indictment in a 27-page typewritten brief. He cited three major legal points in moving the 13 counts in the indictment against Hines be thrown out.

He also cited 36 cases in support of his thesis, and in a precourt interview, the booming-voiced chief defense lawyer was emphatic in stating it was no mere "defense tactic" of a routine, formal nature, but that he sincerely believed the case should be quashed "on the law and the facts."

District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey has indicated that in contrast to the three hours Stryker said he would require for oral argument on his brief, the prosecution would only need "about 15 minutes" to answer it.

The state rested late yesterday after climaxing its maze of circumstantial evidence with testimony that Hines, as alleged political "fixer" for the Schultz mob, attempted to save "the Dutchman" from being "pushed around" by police in Troy, N. Y., and that Hines agreed to look into the pending appointment of Dewey as a special rackets prosecutor in 1935.

Contentions of Defense

In his legal challenge to the case, Stryker declared that even adopting the state's assumption that Hines was an accessory, his client could not be tried for conspiracy within the definition of the law.

Stryker's major contentions were:

One—That counts two to 13 in the indictment, covering felonies, should be dismissed because the evidence failed to prove that Hines "contrived or assisted in contriving a lottery" within the meaning of section 1372 of the penal laws.

Two—That the prosecution failed to establish that the alleged offenses were committed within the statutory period of limitations, pointing out that the first count was a misdemeanor with a 2 year statutory limitation.

Three—That the people failed to prove the alleged conspiracy.

Stryker argued that if Hines were being tried for corruption or obstructing justice, the case might justly be submitted to the jury.

"Since the charge does not come within that category," he continued, "the entire indictment should be dismissed."

Prosecutor Dewey also submitted a brief to Justice Pecora, insisting that the evidence proved the conspiracy, that Hines was one of the conspirators, and that all 13 counts were valid.

Dewey declared that the state's evidence was "remarkably direct in its nature" and "conclusively stamps the defendant Hines and the other conspirators named during the trial as members of the numbers combination" operated by Dutch Schultz.

Dewey's brief covered 26 pages and cited as many cases as the defense.

DROPS INQUIRY ON MAYOR HAGUE

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8—The justice department has dropped its investigation of charges that Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City violated federal guarantees of the right of free speech by refusing some political and labor speakers permit to make addresses in the city.

The department began the investigation several months ago at the request of Norman Thomas, Socialist leader, and Representatives O'Connell (D-Mont) and Bernard (FL-Minn). Thomas had made an unsuccessful effort to address a Jersey City meeting without a permit.

Officials announced last night they had found no evidence that Hague had violated the federation civil rights statute which prohibits conspiracies to deprive a citizen of constitutional rights.

MINERS STRIKE IN ADAIR COUNTY

By The Associated Press.

KIRKSVILLE, Mo., Sept. 8—(AP)—Between 400 and 500 coal miners went on strike for higher wages in Adair county today, shutting down all county mines.

The prevailing wage ranges from $2 to $3.?? a day.

Saul Phillips, representative of miners belonging to the United Mine Workers of America, said the union wage is $5 but the union does not expect operators in this area to pay that much.

Most coal in this district sells for $2.75 a ton.

A meeting will be held tonight at Novinger to discuss a possible settlement.

DEDICATES SITE OF MISSOURI BUILDING

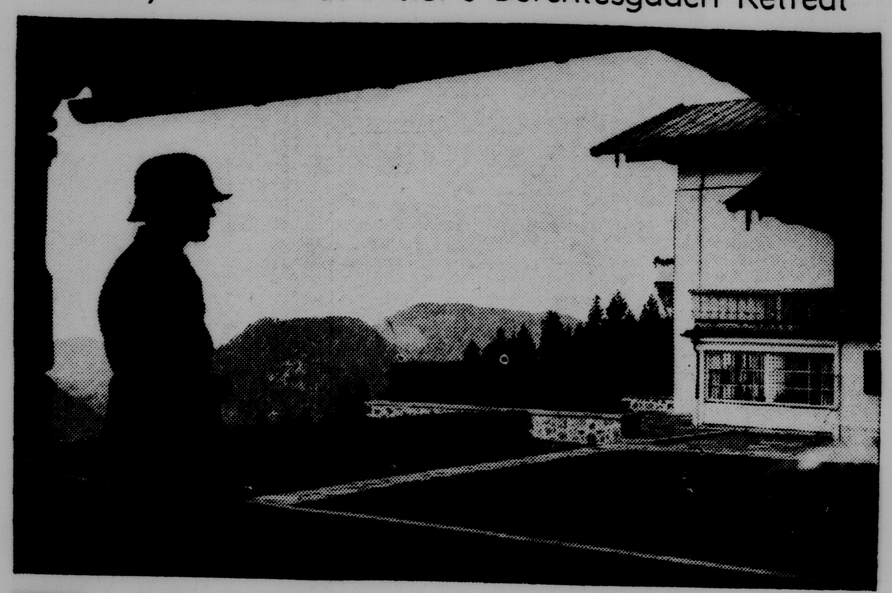

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8—(AP)—Gov. Lloyd C. Stark of Missouri, dedicating his state's building site at the Golden Gate international Exposition, said today "occasions of this kind intensify relationships (between the states) that otherwise might go unrecognized."

Stark headed a delegation from his state to participate in ground breaking ceremonies for the Missouri building.

"No one could manifest greater pride than I that Missouri was among the first, if not actually the first state in the union, to reserve a site for an (exposition) building," Stark said in a prepared speech.

"It is fitting that Missouri should have taken the initiative in this event, because Missouri may well be regarded as the mother of the west and, therefore because of a history which abounds in magnificent accomplishments, be looked to as a leader in every effort of this kind."

History Is Made at Hitler's Berchtesgaden Retreat

When Kurt Schuschnigg went to see Adolf Hitler in the German chancellor's mountain retreat near Berchtesgaden in the beautiful mountains of Bavaria, Austria entered its death throes as an independent state. And now another momentous meeting takes place in this same peaceful setting as Konrad Henlein, leader of the Sudeten Germans of Czechoslovakia, confers with Hitler on new concessions offered his minority group by the Czech government. These pictures show the magnificent beauty of the country surrounding the hideaway where Hitler has made many of his historic decisions—and where he now may decide whether Europe will have war this year.

RITES FOR CARDINAL BY SCHOOLMATE

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—(AP)—George Cardinal Mundelein, Archbishop of the Catholic diocese of Chicago, arrived today to perform what he described as "sad duty," the chanting of a pontifical mass for his boyhood schoolmate, Patrick Cardinal Hayes.

As his retinue prepared to visit the St. Patrick's cathedral, where Cardinal Hayes' body reposed in state before the altar he served so long, members of religious orders of the New York diocese knelt in prayer at a special requiem mass.

Many religious beliefs were represented. Every nationality seemingly was striving to show the respect in which the "Cardinal of Charity" was held. Negroes, Christian Chinese, and Polynesians were sprinkled throughout the throng. Jew, Protestant and Roman Catholic alike rubbed elbows as police kept the lines moving toward the great metal doors of the edifice.

RAPID SHIFT OF RANKING GENERALS

PARIS, Sept. 8.—(AP)—The French army strengthened its high command today with a rapid shift of ranking generals who are experts on the German frontier zone.

General Edouard Requin, commander of the 20th corps area which includes a major portion of the Maginot defense line opposite Germany, was promoted to the superior war council.

General Louis Hubert, who had been commander of the Metz fortified zone opposite the northernmost sector of the German border area, was given the 20th corps area with headquarters at Nancy.

CANCEL LEAVE IN THE FRENCH NAVY

PARIS, Sept. 8.—The French navy ministry today followed the army and air corps in cancelling all leaves for men of the Atlantic fleet in the face of heightened European tension.

The action became known at the Brest naval base when officers and sailors returned hurriedly from leave.

At the same time the French Atlantic fleet began loading munitions and food supplies described by officers as sufficient to maintain the fleet at sea for 60 days.

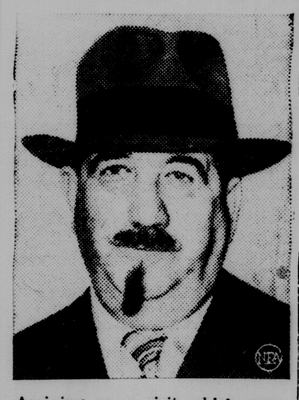

WILLIAM POWELL, SCREEN STAR, HAS OPERATION

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 8—(AP)—William Powell succesfully underwent an abdominal operation at a (Cedars) hospital this morning. The movie star was said to be resting well. The nature of his illness was not revealed.

Granted a Divorce

Mrs. Jane Parker Hill was granted a divorce from Howard Hill in the circuit court today, and her maiden name, Jane Parker, was restored.

French Labor Chief in U. S.

Arriving on a visit which may be cut short by a labor crisis in his native France, where the government is attempting to break down the 40-hour week in the interest of national defense, Leon Jouhaux, above, head of the General Confederation of Workers, France's largest labor organization, plans a tour of the United States and Mexico, conferring with American and Mexican labor leaders.

As Mexico's Cardenas Organized Peasants

Mexican farmers, who as a class are expected to benefit from land expropriations now causing friction between the United States and Mexican governments, are being formed into a National Peasant Federation by President Cardenas, shown above officiating at the convention in Mexico City which effected organization. Cardenas, center in light suit, stands beneath a huge picture of himself, and the emblem of the PRM, revolutionary "united front" party whose head, Luis Rodriguez, stands at Cardenas' left. At the president's right is Graciano Sanchez, chosen head of the peasant organization.

MATRIMONY OF NAZIS TERMED AS 'ACT OF STATE'

German Minister Contends Crime In That Country Reduced

NURNBERG, Germany, Sept. 8—(AP)—A declaration that Naziism has "raised matrimony to an institution standing under the highest authority of the state and no longer under that of the church," today brought the tenth annual Nazi congress to an unusual pitch of enthusiasm.

It was made in the presence of Reichsfuehrer Hitler by Hans Frank, German minister without portfolio and head of the Nazi legal organization.

"We regard matrimony," Frank said, "as an act of the state, carrying with it obligations to assist in building up the state."

Tremendous applause also greeted the minister when he predicted that "criminals of the Dollfuss and Schuschnigg regime will be proven guilty before the entire world in proceedings whose justice will be incontestable."

(Chancellor Englebert Dollfuss of Austria was assassinated in 1934 in an abortive Nazi putsch in Vienna. His successor, Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg, has been a prisoner of Germany since the annexation of Austria last March)

Array of Statistics

Frank produced an array of statistics for 1932, under the German republic and for 1937, under Naziism, to prove that criminality has been enormously reduced. Then he added dramatically:

"Reverse these figures and you have the picture of crime increases in the so-called democracies."

He quoted a United States senate report that $13,000,000,000 is paid annually to racketeers, as the crowd gasped.

"Our critics say there is not justice in Germany," he cried at the top of his voice.

"We hurl this charge back to our critics. Never before has a people been as secure as Germany under Naziism."

Countless "pfuis" came from the audience, and Hitler, on the platform, smiled, when Frank charged democratic countries were tolerant of Soviet Russia and critical of Germany and declared "high church functionaries even turn houses of worship over to meetings against Naziism."

SALES OF AUTOS EXCEED FORECASTS

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.— The General Motors Corp. reported today its sales of automobiles and trucks to consumers in the United States last month totaled 64,925 against 78,758 in July and 156,322 in August, 1937.

The month-to-month drop was less than some automotive observers expected in view of the imminent shift to production of 1939 cars.

William E. Holler, sales manager of the Chevrolet division, said August retail deliveries of new and used car in that division exceeded forecasts.

From January through August domestic sales to consumers were 641,803 units compared with 1,191,366 in the corresponding months last year. Domestic dealer sales totaled 516,226 against 1,224,057 in the like 1937 months. Domestic and foreign dealer sales were 759,414 compared with 1,512,061 in the 1937 period.

CONVICT OFFICIALS OF 'TALENT SCHOOL'

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 8.—Convicted of misdemeanors in operating a movie "talent school," two officials face sentence next month.

I. C. Overdorff, president of the National Talent Pictures Corp. was found guilty of false advertising and petty theft in a non-jury trial before Municipal Judge Leo Freund yesterday.

Edward W. Rose, corporation vice-president and publisher of the magazine "Screen Juveniles," was convicted of false advertising but acquitted of petty theft.

The corporation's traveling agent W. A. Garrabrant, was acquitted of both charges.

The trio was prosecuted on a complaint by Mrs. Harry L. Gross, Wichita Falls, Tex., dance teacher, who claimed she paid the school tuition for one of her pupils on the promise she would be given movie work.

Hermes Pan and Leroy Prinz, film dancing masters, testified their names were used without their permission in advertisements in "Screen Juveniles" of the school's "guest faculty."

Police who raided the school's studio asserted that scores of dancing students had been induced to come to Hollywood in the hope of appearing in a picture which was never made.

WOMAN STRANGLED; MAN IN LAGOON

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Sept. 8—William Frank Raab, in whose hotel room Mrs. Marie Lamont was found yesterday strangled to death, was discovered by the police unconscious and half submerged in a Garfield Park lagoon today.

The police said Raab, a former convict and night club bouncer, appeared to be in a drunken stupor.

Fears Raab might destroy himself arose after police questioned Miss Jean Carlyle, 26 year old dice game girl in a Fox Lake, Ill., cafe. Miss Carlyle said she received a letter from Raab postmarked at 10:30 a. m. yesterday, which read:

"If I should leave this world voluntarily, I wish you the best of luck."

The letter continued, "I'm in an awful muddle" and "this has been a very topsy turvy world."

Mrs. Lamont's nude body was found yesterday in a room at the Lorraine hotel, scene of three attacks on women in recent years.

The maid, Miss Charlie Williams, Negro, said she saw the body in the same position earlier in the day but assumed the woman was sleeping and did not disturb it.

Miss Carlyle said she and Raab planned to be married this fall but that she had received no answers to her letters for two weeks.

Hotel employes said Mrs. Lamont kept some of her clothing in Raab's hotel room, and employes of the club said they had been "going together" for some time. Mrs. Lamont's daughter, Joan, 8 lives with parents of her estranged husband, R. W. Lamont at Kendallville, Ind.

ANNUAL MEET OF BAPTISTS AT OLIVE BRANCH

Dr. Lowe, of China, In Address—Adopt Temperance Resolution

The Harmony Baptist Association, composed of 250 messengers from the twenty-one Baptist churches in Pettis County met in fifty-eighth annual session with the Olive Branch Baptist church north of Beaman Wednesday and went on record as adopting the following resolutions on Temperance:

"Be it resolved by Harmony Association that we pledge ourselves to use every honorable means in our power to banish this blight of intemperance from our land, and that we will use our right of franchise to vote, regardless of any political affiliations that we may have assumed in the past, only for men or women whom we know to be sober and who are opposed to the whiskey business.

We will also refrain from trading in any stores of any kind where beer or whiskey is sold and also from eating in any room where liquor is sold in that same room, unless it is impossible to find an eating place where it is not sold.

Therefore, we pledge ourselves to do everything in our power to drive this curse from these places which we are sometimes called upon to enter to carry on the intercourse of legitimate business."

The meeting was called to order at 10 a. m., Wednesday, September 7, by Moderator A. P. Beazley. After the devotional, adoption of program, and reading of church letters from nineteen churches, the following new pastors in the Association were introduced:

Pastor Ray Dick, Olive Branch.

Pastor W. P. Arnold, East Sedalia Baptist.

Pastor R. W. Leazer, First Baptist.

Dr. John Lowe, for 40 years a missionary to China, told how 60 million Chinese refugees are having to live for weeks on one bowl of rice a day. Dr. Lowe spoke of the need of China for bread and for the Bread of Life. Revivals are breaking out in the refugee camps. The 120 Baptist missionaries when given permission to return to America, chose to stay and help the Chinese people, and the governments of the world have come to value the service and leadership of the missionaries in time of crisis.

TODAY'S PATTERN

By CAROL DAY

This little dress is so perfect for girls who are growing rapidly in height and clothes consciousness, that every one of them should have several made just like it. Following the always-becoming princess line, Pattern 8172 has width at the hem and shoulders, and side-belts that fasten at the back, all of which keeps the general effect from being too lengthy and thin. And what growing girl doesn't look cute in a waist-hugging dress like this, and in a little round collar?

This design adapts itself equally well to every-day and dress-up occasions. Make it up in sturdy cottons, or in challis, jersey or wool crepe, for the coming school year. And repeat it in velveteen or taffeta, with a collar of delicate lace, for parties and dancing school. It's decidedly easy to make.

Pattern No. 8172 is designed for sizes 6, 8, 10, 12, and 14 years. Size 8 requires 2 3-8 yards of 39-inch material. Contrasting collar, if desired, takes 1-4 yard.

The new FALL AND WINTER PATTERN BOOK, 32 pages of attractive designs for every size and every occasion, is now ready. Photographs show dresses made from these patterns being worn. a feature you will enjoy. Let the charming designs in this new book help you in your sewing. cents. Pattern or book alone—15 cents.

DISSENSION FOR FILM CRAFTSMEN IN A FLAREUP

Complaint To NLRB. By Union Official Termed "Ridiculous"

By The Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 8—Bitter dissension among film craftsmen flared today in a complaint to the National Labor Relations Board that payment of $100,000 to a union official put 12,000 union workers under "direct control" of the Association of Motion Pictures Producers, Inc.

Pat Casey, labor mediator of the Producers' organization, immediately branded the complaint as "ridiculous" and said.:

"If these unions are company unions, do they think they could have gotten from 25 to 35 per cent increases in pay during the past three or four years?"

The complaint was filed with Dr. Towne Nylander, regional N. L. R. B. director, by Jeff Kibre, a studio craftsmen, who said he was "acting for and on hebalf of the Motion Picture Technicians' committee."

Bribe Is Alleged

Kibre alleged that William Bioff, formerly personal representative in Hollywood of George E. Browne, international president of the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employes, accepted $100,000 from Joseph M. Schenck, president of the Producers' Association, to "sell out" I. A. T. S. E. control.

"Since Jan. 2, 1936, Bioff has been the paid agent for the Producers while purporting to act for President Browne," the complaint said. Bioff recently resigned his I. A. T. S. E. post.

"Thousands of workers have been paying tribute to this racket for more than two years," Kibre asserted, "only to see their working conditions become steadily worse. For many months, 12,000 studio workers have paid to Bioff and Browne 2 per cent of their wages in addition to $3 per month in dues. For this tribute they have received exactly nothing.

"The average annual wage of the studio crafts, compared with a high of $2,400 in 1929, is now less than $1,400."

The complaint declared that Producers stimulated a process of collective bargaining to satisfy legal requirements of the Wagner act, but because they were dealing with their own "paid agent," they were in effect, refusing to bargain with their employes.

TEACHERS COURSES IN PETTIS COUNTY

Central Missouri State Teachers college will continue its former practice of offering regular college work in extension centers in Pettis county. Miss Gladys Goss, of the Art Department, will be at Sedalia Saturday, September 10th, at 9 a. m., to confer with teachers who are specifically interested in a course in government.

Classes will be organized in response to needs of the teachers of Pettis county, providing a minimum of fifteen teachers enroll in each course. Classes will be held on alternate Saturdays for a total of twelve meetings. Each session will be of three hours duration.

County Superintendent C. F. Scotten will assist Miss Goss in organizing the courses.

HOW TO MAKE A THIN SOUP HEARTY

Has the family been welcoming your soup with zest? Have the men in your family been saying: "Now that's what I call real soup!" Do you want them too? Then heed this advice from a cooking expert—

Use Quaker or Mother's Oats for thickening. It's inexpensive. It adds extra food value. It enhances flavor. It makes a hearty soup that men love. And it's another chance to supply your family with Thiamin (Vitamin B), which everybody needs continuously for best health.

Oats, you know, are nature's richest economical source of this wonderful health substance that is so important to good digestion and steady nerves. Quaker or Mother's Oats also supply proteins for firm muscle and those body-building minerals, iron and phosphorus.

So put Quaker or Mother's Oats in your soup and win the reputation for making the kind of soup men love. To be sure you have the best possible recipe, clip and use this one:—

Quaker's Vegetable Soup
(Serves 8)

2 lb. soup bone (½ bonel ½ meat)
2 tablespoons fat
2 quarts water
tablespoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 cups canned tomatoes
1 cup cubed carrots
¼ cup chopped onions
½ cup chopped celery
½ cup Quick Quaker or
1 cup Regular Quaker Oats

Remove part of meat from cracked soup bone, cut into cubes and brown lightly in hot fat. Place meat, soup bone, water, salt and pepper in soup kettle. Cover tightly and simmer approximately 2 hours. Cool, strain, and chill sufficiently so that excess fat may be skimmed off. There should be 6½ cups of stock. Return stock to kettle and add vegetables. Bring to boil, then add Quaker Oats slowly. Cover and simmer approximately ½ hour, or until vegetables are tender. Soup meat used in making the stock may be cut in small pieces and added. Serve with finely chopped parsley, if desired.

GROCERY BARGAINS

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Service Staff Writer

Americans love to talk about Smithfield ham from "ole Virginny." Few know what they mean.

Smithfield is not a trade name. Originally made from razorback hogs born and reared in Smithfield, the term now means a ham prepared with a dry salt cure and spiced and smoked in the way originated in Smithfield.

Today, many Smithfield hams never saw Smithfield, but were cured in the "Smithfield way." And pure-bred razorback hogs "just ain't no more."

We boast of our Grade A hams, also. What does Grade A mean?

The pig must be corn fed, the ham cured very slowly and smoked longer than other hams. The result is firm even-textured meat which is a rich pink but decidedly not red. Around the butt of Grade A ham there is a generous supply of fat. Corn feeding produces fat. Swill fed pigs have soft and coarse flesh.

Here's another fact to remember. Ham does not keep indefinitely, despite belief to the contrary. Sometimes your butcher will offer Grade A hams at a great saving.

Don't suspect him. He knows that the deadline of those Grade A hams is approaching, after which they will not be in excellent condition. Therefore, while they are still in a first class state, he wants to get rid of them. So watch for these genuine bargins.

Let's end class with a sandwich and a glass of milk.

Ham Spread

(Makes 10 large sandwishes)

Two cups ground baked ham, ½ cup ground tart pickle, ¼ cup ground green pepper, 1 teaspoon chopped watercress, ¼ cup ground celery, mayonnaise.

Mix all ingredients. Spread on buttered bread.

Menu

BREAKFAST: Huckleberries, cream, dry cereal, bacon, oatmeal muffins, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Baked stuffed cucumbers, toasted French rolls, iced watermelon, tea, milk.

DINNER: Baked Grade A ham, baked sweet potatoes, stewed okra and tomatoes, shredded cabbage and green pepper salad, fresh apricot sherbet, coffee, milk.

SANDWICH MEALS

(By Martha Logan)

Substantial sandwiches with a beverage and a fruit dessert are always a popular combination. With the coming of the table grill and toaster, there has been an increase in the use of toast for both hot and cold sandwiches. French bread, wheat and rye bread should not be forgotten. French toast—bread dipped in beaten egg or condensed milk, then pan fried in butter—is an interesting variation on which to build the hot sandwich.

Most of us enjoy a club house sandwich, yet forget that other meat may be used in place of chicken. Personally a "three decker" is far too difficult for me to manage with any skill, so we use only two slices of toast and vary the meat according to the contents of the refrigerator—cold roast pork or veal, sliced tongue, meat loaf, corned beef, etc. Of course, lettuce, salad dressing and crisp bacon are called for. A sliced tomato is a good garnish, although sliced cucumber, watermelon or crab-apple pickles are equally good.

Perhaps some of these combinations may be worth a place in your supper or luncheon menus:

1. Cold roast veal, crisp Canadian style bacon, lettuce, tomato slice, salad dressing between slices of hot buttered toast.
2. Crisp bacon, peanut butter between slices of hot buttered toast.
3. French toast topped with a slice of ham. Cover with cheese or tomato sauce.
4. Shredded dried beef—pan fried until crisp. Blend with cottage cheese. Serve between slices of buttered whole wheat bread.
5. Corned beef hash between slices of toasted cracked wheat bread. Serve with thinly sliced onion or cucumber.
6. Pan fried bologna and scrambled eggs on buttered rye bread.
7. Pan fry patties of seasoned ground lamb shoulder. Serve with crisp bacon between slices of buttered French bread.
8. Season creamed butter with prepared mustard and horseradish. Use to spread bread for beef, ham, or tongue sandwiches.
9. Cold sliced roast turkey or chicken on hot dressing—with toast foundation. Cover with hot giblet gravy.
10. Ground left-over meat, pickle relish or chili sauce, and salad dressing between slices of buttered bread.

• THE FAMILY DOCTOR

T. M. REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

POOR HOUSING CONDITIONS FACILITATE THE SPREAD OF DISEASE.

(This is the first of three articles by Dr. Fishbein in which he discusses the relation between housing and health.)

Without any doubt the spread of disease is fostered by bad housing. Indeed, if any one of the fundamentals of human living, including food, fuel, clothing, and housing, is lacking to any considerable extent, there is bound to be a deleterious effect on health.

Perhaps the most important factors from the point of view of health in relationship to housing are the factors of plumbing and sanitation, lack of light and sunshine, and overcrowding. Polluted water coming into a dwelling, improper plumbing, and unsanitary toilets are unquestionably associated with menaces to health.

However, it is not always the slum dwelling in which such factors are present. Sometimes faulty plumbing which permits the siphoning or leakage of sewer waste into water supplies may be found in places devoted almost wholly to those of wealth.

* * *

Overcrowding is particularly a menace. The more tightly people are packed together, the more certainty there is that those diseases which are spread by contact of one person with another will be disseminated throughout the group. This applies particularly to such diseases as the common cold and sore throat, diphtheria, scarlet fever, measles, mumps, chickenpox, whooping cough, and the other important diseases of childhood. It has been found that in families averaging less than one person per room the infant mortality rate is 52 for each one thousand live births; whereas the rate is 95 where the density is between one and two, and about 136 for two persons and over.

Of course poor housing is also associated with other factors, such as the presence of flies, when there is a lack of screening of windows, accumulation of filth, and stagnant waters when the premises are not kept in good order. There is a hazard to health from buildings in which porches and stairs are not kept in a good state of repair. There is always the danger of loss of life from fires when construction does not promote protection against the fire hazard.

Finally, overcrowding in the home is almost invariably associated with mental disturbances which result from the crowding of too many people living together in close quarters. Friction between members of the family and high tension of the nervous system are bound to be present in families where all of the people are crowded together, using a few facilities for living.

Spatt Kaka, Swedish spindle cake, requires 80 eggs in addition to potato-flour and sugar, its only other ingredients. One person turns a spindle slowly over a fire while another drops the dough on, a spoonful at a time.

An old sea captain, Esek Hopkins of Providence, R. I., was appointed in November, 1775, to be first "commander-in-chief of the fleet" by the Continental Congress. Congress intended to give him the charge of a squadron.

Bans were placed on lace-wearing in England during the reign of Queen Mary Tudor, 1553-1558.

The Sty, Cumberland, is among England's wettest spots. More than 247 inches of rain fell there in 1923.

• RAISING A FAMILY

Parents Should Set Moral Standards at Home

Schools go in pretty heavily for moral training, as well as character building and sportsmanship. Of course, there isn't time for following it through individually, but every child absorbs ideals along the line, and knows that honesty, industry and cleanliness are something to be admired.

What part does school play in any child's moral training? How far is it responsible for his general betterment? The Sunday school has him one day a week, for an hour. The school has him five days a week for six hours each day. Here are thirty-one hours out of 168, a ratio of one to four and a half, or sometimes five, depending on the length of sessions. He is out of school 137 hours a week.

Now to continue the comparison. At school the teacher is engaged in general work. She has a very definite grade program to cover. Class recitations and study take up most of her time. The pupil, too, is constricted, more or less, and his experience is limited. He is a different creature from the free little boy on the front porch, in the living room or dining room. Different from the lusty fellow on the lot or playing in someone's yard.

The true Johnny comes out in his free time, not in his school time, with few exceptions. Which makes it a harder problem for you, mother, because you are dealing with liberty and the teacher is not thus handicapped. She may feel that she is, having standards of discipline to reach that you need not worry about so much; but if she were not helped by rules, of which each child is perfectly aware, her work would be impossible.

Morals Not Teacher's Job

At last we have reached the crux of the matter. Who is responsible for any child's character and moral fibre? You or the school? Need I answer? Johnny is home almost five times as long as he is at school. I am not forgetting the street, social influence, or all the things that may pull him down, but again, who has the opportunity to use this, or change it? The teacher or yourself?

No, I am sure we cannot expect to send son John to school to have him made over. It is our job. It is our job to give him standards, from the first, and to guide him as best we may in the way he should go. His resentment of school may make him surly or nervous. Again it is our job to inquire into conditions and see that Johnny is not drawing on his emotions rather than his good sense to gain sympathy. Up to a point, it is our job to teach him to accept the distasteful. Yes, a lot of things are our responsibility.

Humbled Britain In Naval Battle

"WE have met the enemy and they are ours. Two ships, two brigs, one schooner and one sloop."

Thus, on Sept. 10, 125 years ago, did young Oliver Hazard Perry, commander of the Great Lakes fleet of the infant United States Navy, laconically announce to the world his victory over the English in the battle of Lake Erie.

During the war of 1812, Perry was ordered to build a fleet at Presque Isle, now Erie, Pa., to check the British threat of invasion from the north. With nine ships, he sailed against the larger and stronger British fleet. His own flagship, Lawrence, was disabled in the battle, so he abandoned it for the Niagara, and soon forced the enemy to surrender.

Although Perry had opened the way, the Americans were unable to invade Canada. His victory, however, remains one of the greatest traditions of the Navy.

Congress rewarded Perry by advancing him to the rank of captain and gave him a gold medal. In 1815-16 Perry commanded the "Java" in the Mediterranean expedition. He died of yellow fever at Port of Spain, Trinidad, Aug. 13, 1819, at the age of 34.

SETBACK FOR THE WHEAT MARKET

By JOHN BOUGHAN
Associated Press Market Editor

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—Sympathizing with weakness of the Winnipeg market, Chicago wheat prices suffered 1⅜ cents a bushel setback late today.

Conspicuous among sellers in the late dealings here were traders who earlier had been on the purchase side. Foreign demand for United States wheat was reported as extremely slick, with only a small overseas business in Canadian grain.

At the close, Chicago wheat futures were ⅝ to 1⅜ cent lower compared with yesterday's finish, Sept. 60½c to 60⅝c, Dec. 61⅝c to 61½c; corn unchanged to ⅜ cent higher, Sept. 50¾c, Dec. 48⅝c to 48¾c, and oats ⅛ to ¼ cent advanced.

HAS 11 EARS OF CORN ON A GIANT STALK

LITTLESTOWN, Pa., Sept. 8—(AP)—Eleven ears of corn are growing on a giant stalk in J. H. Mehring's cornfield. The unusual stalk is 12 feet high and nearly as thick as a man's arm. Each of the ears is topped by a tassel such as normally grows at the top of the stalk.

LIGHT BUYING ON STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Light buying support helped stem an early slide in today's stock market and closing quotations, were generally lower, displayed no particular weakness.

A handful of rubber, building material, automotive equipment and specialty issues provided the main come-back stimulation, although most of these were able to emerge with only small fractional gains and some fell back at the finish.

With the exception of an assortment of low-priced stocks, dealings were so sluggish that the ticker tape frequently came to a standstill. Transfers approximated 550,000 shares.

Continuance of bright business developments provided an offsetting influence to the confusing overseas picture and kept many nervous brokerage customers from running to shelter.

LOSES LIFE BY CONTACT WITH ELECTRIC WIRE

WEST PLAINS, Mo., Sept. 8.—(AP)—Ted Greathouse, 28, a carpenter met instant death late yesterday when he came in contact with an electric wire while repairing the roof of a dwelling at Gainsville. Alva Gunter, who was helping Greathouse, was knocked down and injured when he tried to rescue the carpenter.

Coroner C. A. Beach of Ozark County said no inquest will be necessary. Greathouse is survived by his widow and three small children. The body was sent to Mountain Home, Ark., for burial.

Say it with a Clear Skin

NO man or woman wants to have a finger poked at them or receive sympathy because of an unhealthy skin appearance.

Some skin troubles are tough to correct, but we do know this—skin tissues like the body itself must be fed from within.

To make the food we eat available for strength and energy, there must be an abundance of red-blood-cells.

S.S.S. Tonic builds these precious red cells. It is a simple, internal remedy, tested for generations and also proven by scientific research.

You, too, will want to take S.S.S. Tonic to regain and to maintain your red-blood-cells . . . to restore lost weight . . . to regain energy . . . to strengthen nerves . . . and to give to your skin that natural health glow.

Take the S.S.S. Tonic treatment and shortly you should be delighted with the way you feel . . . and have your friends compliment you on the way you look. There is no substitute for this time-tested remedy. No ethical druggist will suggest something "just as good."

S.S.S. Tonic stimulates the appetite and helps change weak blood cells to strong ones

FIND ENTERTAINER DEAD IN ROOM

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—Mrs. Marie Lamont, a pretty cabaret entertainer, was found strangled Wednesday in a room at the Lorraine hotel, scene of three previous attacks upon women.

Dr. Jerry Hearns, a coroner's physician, and the red-haired young woman apparently had been garotted with an electric light cord found near the bed on which her body lay unclothed.

Police estimated Mrs. Lamont had died at least 14 hours before her body was discovered by a chambermaid. There was no evidence of a struggle.

A search was ordered for Mrs. Lamont's sweetheart, a former night club doorman who had lived in the room two years.

SINGING CONVENTION AT MALDEN NEXT SUNDAY

MALDEN, Mo., Sept. 8.—(AP)—The annual Missouri singing convention, which usually draws crowds of from 3,000 to 5,000 persons, will be held here next Sunday. C. E. Porter of Campbell, president of the convention, said singers from seven states will be here to participate in the program.

Inasmuch as the Methodist church auditorium, where the convention will be held, is expected to be taxed to capacity by singers, an amplifying system will be installed on the streets so others may hear the program.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful bachaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.
